[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 18.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—As the National Currency Bill now stands it allows the issue of twenty millions of national currency to the banks in those States which have less than five dollars in circulation to each inhabitant, and provides for the withdrawal to the same amount from those States having a surplus within one year.

The vote by which the bill allowing clerks of the departments twenty per cent. additional salary was passed, was reconsidered to-day and tabled by four majority. This effectually disposes of the proposition at the present session. An effort will now be made to reduce the salaries of members of Congress from $5,000 to $3,000.

A military review of all the troops of this department was held to day in honor of the Chinese Embassy, who were present and manifested great interest. About 3,000 troops, cavalry, infantry and artillery, were in line.

The Intelligencer has another studied attack on Secretary McCulloch this morning, urging the President to remove him. The article asserts that McCulloch became alarmed at the prospect of removal and on Monday summoned Chief Justice Chase post haste from Richmond in order that his influence with the President might be used to have him retained in office. Chase responded at once and visited the President for that purpose. The article excites considerable commotion in political circles, principally from the fact that the Intelligencer is recognized as the President's organ.

The Senate to-day, confirmed the following nominations: John W. Caldwell of Ohio, Minister to Bolivia; Robert Matthews of Indiana, Consul to Naples; James A. Thompson of Tennessee, Consul to St. Thomas; Jas. McCoy, Collector of Revenue for the 7th District of California.

The bill relative to the Court of Claims was passed by the House. One of its provisions extends the right of appeal from the Senate to the Supreme Court, in cases of special jurisdiction, such as the cotton cases last term, wherein the court held there is no appeal because they did not come under the general jurisdiction. Another section provides that the Court of Claims may grant a new trial in any case within two years, if it has reason to believe that it has been imposed on, or new evidence of a material character can be produced. It abolishes the office of solicitor of the Court of Claims, and takes from the Attorney General the privilege to appoint his own assistant. This disposes of Assistant Attorney General Binckley, solicitors Norton, Wood and Kerr. The President is authorized to appoint two Assistant Attorney Generals, with a salary of $4,000 each.

Chase's Platform.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A special telegram from Washington says the following is said to be an authoritative statement of the platform of Chief Justice Chase by himself:

Universal suffrage as recognized by Democratic principles, the regulation of which is to be left to the several States under the Constitution of the United States, to themselves; universal amnesty and the complete removal of all disabilities on account of participation in the rebellion, not only as a just and wise measure of public policy, but necessary to the beneficial administration of the government in the States recently involved in civil war with the United States; full and satisfactory re-establishment of the practical relations of those States with active States of the American Union; no military government in any State in the Union in time of peace—this is incompatible with the principles of civil liberty established by the Constitution, nor can the trial of private citizens by military commissions be tolerated by a people jealous of their freedom and desiring to be free; taxes to be reduced as far as practicable, collected impartially, and with strict economy, proportioned as they bear on property, rather than on labor, and while national obligations should be honestly and exactly fulfilled, no special privileges should be allowed to any classes, individuals or corporations.

Fenians Disarmed.

BURLINGTON, (Vt.) June 18.—Eight tons of arms, taken from Fenians by the United States Government, passed through this city en route from St. Albans to New York.

Senator Elected in Florida.

TALLAHASSEE, June 18.—In the Legislature today F. W. Osborn was elected United States Senator for four years, by a vote of 51 to 18.

West Indies.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Dispatches from St. Domingo, Jamaica, and Hayti, state that the siege of Port au Prince is still going on. The rebels are lying on their arms until Gen. Faubert and Gen. Nersage arrive with reinforcements. The suburbs have been burned to get a clear view of the rebels. Salnave is directing the defence in person. He received the American Minister with every mark of kindness. Baez has offered the bay and peninsular of Samana as security for a loan of one million dollars from the United States.

Miscellaneous.

Boiler Explosion—Man Killed.

JACKSONVILLE, June 20.—The boiler of the steam saw-mill at Trinidad, California, exploded on the 15th inst., killing one man named Tupper, and wounding seven others. The mill is a complete wreck.

GRAND CASH.—The secret diplomatic history of the Confederacy states that Sir Henry de Houghton, one of the wealthiest Baronets of England, contributed in all over £280,000 to the Confederate cause, and that he held at the close of the rebellion, not far from one-tenth of the whole Confederate cotton loan.

Pour do Houghton!

It is said that Fanny Fern gets $5,000 a year for her contributions to the Ledger. This is about one dollar per line. Fanny is well paid. There is a great deal of better material furnished newspapers for about five cents per line.

Decision in Admiralty.

District of Oregon.—In Admiralty—The Barque Live Yankee.—June 20, 1868.

On April 20, 1868, Levi Millard and William J. Van Schuyver, merchants and partners in the city of Portland, filed their libel against the barque Live Yankee, then lying in the port of Portland and District aforesaid.

The libel alleges that the libellants on or about October 1, 1867, shipped on the Live Yankee, at the port of San Francisco, California, and bound for the port of Portland, among other goods, two ¼ casks of wine, in good order and condition, to the libellants at Portland, the damages of fire and navigation excepted, primage, etc.

That the Live Yankee soon after sailed for Portland, at which port she arrived about November 1, 1867, and that by reason of the improper stowage of the casks and the negligence of the Master and crew concerning the transportation of the same, they were wholly lost and destroyed, to the damage of the libellants, $217.

By the answer of the respondents, John Wiggin, Master, and A. S. Abernethy, intervening for their interest in the barque, the voyage in question is admitted to have been made between October 4 and November 5, 1867, and that the libellants shipped thereon, among other goods, etc., two ¼ casks of port wine, as alleged in the libel; and as to the order and condition of such casks, at the time of shipment, the respondents say that they have no knowledge, but allege upon information, that there were secret defects in the casks, not observed when received on board and which could not have been observed or remedied after they were stowed, and that the value of the goods did not exceed $100.

The answer also denies that the casks were carelessly or negligently handled or stowed, and alleges that the loss of the wine was owing to secret defects in the casks and the perils of navigation.

On the trial the libellants read in evidence a freight receipt as follows:—

"San Francisco, October 2, 1867.—Received from P. C. Dart, 419, Front Street, in good order, on board the barque Live Yankee for Portland, Oregon (the damages of fire and navigation excepted) the following packages, marked M. & V." Then follows a list of the goods shipped by the libellants, including those ¼ casks of wine.

It being admitted by the answer that the casks of wine were received on board the barque, to be delivered to the libellants at Portland, and also that such delivery was not made, the barque is prima facie liable for the value of the goods. In addition to this it appears from the freight receipt that the casks were in good order when received by the Master. This being so, the burden of proof is devolved upon the respondents, to show that the loss occurred, as they allege from secret defects in the casks or the perils of navigation. (Seller v Steamship Pacific, Oregon, 413.)

As to the latter defence, the evidence fails altogether. True as appears from the testimony of the Master the voyage was a long and stormy one, yet so far as he is able to testify no water went down the hatches, nor did any portion of the cargo shift from its position. At Astoria the Master procured a survey of the hatches and at Portland of the cargo. Capt. Gilman, an experienced seaman and now and then a Columbia river pilot, was one of the persons who made the surveys. He testifies that no water passed down the hatches and that no part of the cargo had shifted its position. There is no other evidence upon this point. Under the circumstances, to attribute the leakage of the casks to the perils of the sea would be a mere arbitrary assumption unsupported by proof. It is not enough to show that the vessel encountered adverse winds and heavy weather and therefore the loss might have been caused by these elements. The loss of the wine being admitted, the burden lies upon the respondents to show that it was occasioned by the dangers of navigation. This fact must be established with reasonable certainty and not rest upon mere conjecture or possibility. If upon the whole it is doubtful whether the loss arose from the perils of the sea or the negligence or want of skill in stowing the cargo or navigating the vessel, the [illegible] must bear the loss.

Counsel for the respondents maintains that if it is doubtful how the loss occured there can be no recovery—that the vessel is exonerated; and cites Clark et al. v Barnwell et al. (12 How 280). But I do not so read this authority. The court says (p 283) that the proof was clear that the damage was occasioned by one of the dangers of navigation, and while it was competent for the libellants to show that it might have been prevented by proper skill and diligence on the part of the respondents, unless such proof was made, the law would presume that the damage occurred without negligence or fault on the part of the Master or owners.

The case cited clearly establishes the doctrine, that if it be first admitted or shown that the loss was occasioned by a peril of the sea, and upon the proof it be doubtful whether such peril could have been avoided by proper skill and diligence, and the loss thereby prevented, such doubt is to be resolved in favor of the vessel, for in that stage and posture of the case, the law shifts the burden of proof to the libellants, who must establish the negligence or unskillfulness of the respondents, before they can recover. But in the case before the court it is not admitted that the loss was occasioned by a peril of the sea. On the contrary this is the question in dispute and the burden of proof is upon the respondents, who have the affirmative of it. Then if upon the proof it be doubtful whether the loss was occasioned by a peril of the sea, that doubt must be resolved in favor of the libellants, for the burden is upon the respondents to establish that fact.

As to the question of whether the loss arose from the insufficiency of the casks or not, the case is not so clear. The Master testifies that the casks were well stowed and dunnaged, with bungs up and bilge free. To the same effect is the testimony of Captain Gilman. In one particular, however, there is a marked difference in the testimony of these two witnesses. The Master states that these casks, with the others belonging to the libellants, were stowed on the bottom of the vessel, one tier deep, on one side of the kelson, and then covered with salt in sacks. Gilman states that the casks in controversy were stowed in the middle tier of three tiers of liquor casks; that the top tier was barrels of whisky, and that there was no salt upon them, but some light boxes of dry goods. It is not necessary to conclude that either of these witnesses made an intentional misstatement about this matter, but both their statements in this respect cannot be true. One of them at least must be mistaken about the stowage and position of this part of the cargo. But this flat contradiction in the testimony of the respondents' witnesses must be taken into account in estimating the value of their testimony. The observation or memory of one of them, and the circumstances do not disclose which of them, is much at fault and unreliable.

The casks have been brought into court. They will hold about thirty gallons each—are made of oak and hooped with wooden and iron hoops. The witnesses say they are French wine casks, or very good imitations of them. The stains and rust upon the exterior indicate that the casks are old, but no particular marks or appearances of decay can be seen. One of them is altogether empty, while in the other there is probably ten or twelve gallons. The chine hoop is off one end of the empty barrel and a small piece of the chine broken off. From all the testimony I conclude that the casks are now in the same condition substantially as when they came out of the hold of the vessel. One witness testified that when the casks were placed upon the wharf, the bilge appeared to be pressed in, as if it had been subjected to a heavy pressure. The casks at this time have no such appearance, and I think the witness must have been mistaken in this particular.

Frances E. Hoag, [illegible] that he was drayman for libellants when the wine arrived. That he saw three casks on the wharf and refused to take them because in bad order. "Both of them appeared to be jammed in the head and the liquor ran out of them." On being shown the casks this witness pointed out where the leak occurred, and in my judgment, the true cause of it. The leak was in the chine, and at that end of each cask there appears to have been a pressure at right angles with the length of the cask and parallel to the direction of the head and with the staves of the head. This pressure is apparent from the present shape of that end of the empty barrel, and one of the staves of the head is drawn endwise from its place at least ½ of an inch. This is apparent from the brand "M. & V., Portland," which I suppose was put on the casks just before they were shipped. The M. is upon one stave and the V. upon another. The character & is between these letters and was made partly upon one stave and partly upon the other. Now one stave is pushed by the other, so that the corresponding parts of the character do not meet by at least ½ of an inch. So with the word Portland. It extends from one stave across on to the other, but now the letters do not meet by about the same distance. The shifting of the staves of the head of this cask caused the loss of the wine. Of this there can be but little doubt. What caused the shifting of the staves, and whether the head was of proper material and workmanship to support the ordinary handling and pressure of such a voyage, may admit of difference of opinion. The respondents have not shown that there was any secret defect or insufficiency about the cask to cause this leak. By their receipt they acknowledged that the cask was in good order when they received it. This is no ordinary leakage or evaporation such as liquor casks are subject to, but substantially a total loss from an injury to the cask after delivery to the [illegible]. Unless, then, the respondents show that this injury or slipping of the stave is the [illegible] was the necessary or probable result of the [illegible] of the workmanship or [illegible] of the [illegible] or [illegible] part of it, the libellants are [illegible] to recover. No such proof has been made.

What has been said of the empty cask applies also to the other one. The injury to it is not near so apparent, but of the same character. The leak is in the chine, and one of the staves of the head has slipped by the other a little. The probability is, that in slinging these casks into the hold, they got jammed, or that after being stowed they were subjected to a pressure from above and near the end, which started the staves in the head as has been [illegible].

As to the value of the wine, the only testimony upon that point is that of the libellant, Van Schuyver. He says that the wine including freight and primage cost $217 in [illegible].

There must be a decree for the libellants for the value of the goods $217—with legal interest since the 8th of November, 1867, and for [illegible] of suit.

The Uses of Adversity to the [illegible].

The Democratic party has now been out of power a sufficient length of time, and has [illegible] the spending by other hands than its own of a sufficient amount of money, to have learnt whatever adversity has to teach. It has, too, during this period of exclusion from [illegible], enjoyed the great advantage of being delivered from that necessity of defending slavery which we had down its energies and destroyed its [illegible] for some years before the war, and which, many of its foremost members loved to believe, [illegible], but did not diminish, its virtues. It still, they said, had great principles in its keeping, and its uses to the commonwealth, as the guardian of [illegible], would be plainer than ever when the [illegible] arising out of the war were at an end.

What all this [illegible] to we have, luckily, during the past winter, seen exemplified on a [illegible] scale, but still on a scale large enough to give us the means of judging what kind of [illegible] we should have if the party secured the [illegible], and had a majority in Congress [illegible] nominee. Owing to various [illegible] still fresh in the recollection of [illegible] tions went against the Republicans last fall in two of the largest, [illegible] in the Union, New York and Ohio, and the Democrats got the upper hand in the State [illegible] tures for the first time in [illegible]. Here, they had at least an opportunity of [illegible] the world what they [illegible] in opposition; of setting the [illegible] an example of what they consider [illegible] government; of giving the [illegible] tical statesmanship"; of proving the [illegible] of the corruption by which they say, the land has been disgraced during the [illegible], by their own purity, and illustrating the folly of the policy of coercion pursued at the South by a policy of moderation and conciliation at home. Few people, of course, who were familiar with the [illegible] of which the party is now [illegible] it a display of genuine virtue and [illegible] but there were plenty who believed that [illegible] was enough brains left in it to [illegible] a fair [illegible] bath of virtue and [illegible].

The experiment has now [illegible] half a year, and we have the result. The New York Legislature, now sitting, is probably the [illegible] corrupt legislative body which has ever [illegible] the Irish Parliament of [illegible] and most [illegible] memory. The most [illegible] from the largeness of the proportion of [illegible] members it contains, but the [illegible] of the [illegible] for which they can be bought. (And how true this is of the late California Legislature.)

In Ohio, the Democratic majority have not, so far as we have heard, shown [illegible] in the art of corruption, but they [illegible] other [illegible] not less significant. One of their first acts, as our readers may [illegible], was an attempt to revoke the [illegible] of the [illegible] the constitutional amendment [illegible] made by the last Legislature. There is nothing in this [illegible] as everybody knows, in the smallest degree opposed to any principle the Democratic party has [illegible]. It is simply the lawful [illegible] changes in the Constitution of which [illegible] denies the desirability.

They have, however, [illegible] this. One of their great [illegible] ment of the Southern [illegible] chisement of the North [illegible] has been the ignorance of the [illegible] the Republicans for [illegible] in the government to African [illegible] of its principles, of its pressures, of its aims. One would naturally expect that a party which [illegible] in this way, and which is so careful of the [illegible] of influence brought to bear on polls, that it will not suffer even educated [illegible] to vote at the North, lest black alone should [illegible] with it some secret [illegible] every effort at least to include in the voting population the largest possible number of [illegible] and intelligent white men; that it would [illegible] all attempts by technical rules, the participation in the government of those whose [illegible], and training made their political value undeniable; that let the supporters of disqualification and strict construction be who they might, they would not be found in the ranks of the Democratic party. Nevertheless, the Ohio Legislature has just disfranchised all students of colleges, and the inmates of soldiers' [illegible], who [illegible] show that they are permanent residents in the district in which the college or home is all [illegible]. The same phenomenon has been witnessed in New Haven. The Democratic selectmen in that city refuse to register students of Yale College, and there is, it appears, under the Constitution no power in the Courts to compel them.—The Nation.

The West Side Road.

Few persons, we think, have an adequate idea of the labor required to build the first five miles of the west side railroad, commencing at the south end of this city. But difficult as the enterprise is beyond anything ever before undertaken in Oregon, it will be apparent to any one who inspects the work now going on that it is the intention and expectation of its managers to push it energetically through. The progress made on the west side road is not measured, determined or detailed by a statement of so many miles actually graded,—though the grading has been finished in perfect order for a considerable distance,—but the progress is shown by an examination of the obstacles to be encountered from the south end of the city to the summit of the mountain, and the amount of labor which has been performed within this distance during the last two months. When the ruggedness of the route is considered, it will at once be conceded that the west side company have made as much progress as anybody could have expected to see in so short a time.

At present there are about one hundred men [illegible] employed on the road. The rains [illegible] the season quite unpropitious for the work, as it has been necessary to do a [illegible] deep cutting and the water and [illegible] much in the way. The grading [illegible] distributed into eight [illegible] a space of about two miles. Between the point where ground was first broken and the [illegible] there are three very deep [illegible] and a large number of smaller ones. The [illegible] is being filled with [illegible] this side. On the north side the cut is about one thousand feet in length and for a considerable part of the [illegible] is twelve to fifteen feet in depth. Work has been [illegible] in some places, [illegible] to resort to blasting and [illegible] progress slow. On the south side of the [illegible] is a ridge to cut through for a distance of six hundred feet. This cut is fifty [illegible] feet in depth, and is the most [illegible] one on the route. It can only be [illegible] the north side, as the dirt is [illegible] to fill the ravine. The cut is being [illegible] as rapidly as it is possible to work it. On account of the impossibility of working it from both sides, and [illegible] of room for workmen, only a [illegible] can be [illegible] on it. Two [illegible] are however employed at this [illegible] and the earth is [illegible] into the [illegible] twenty-five feet in depth and [illegible] feet [illegible]. At the bottom of the [illegible] a culvert two hundred feet long has [illegible] timbers, [illegible] for the water. [illegible] described, is [illegible] six feet wide at the top; and [illegible] will [illegible] the removal of thirty [illegible].

[illegible] to the summit the deepest [illegible] is about [illegible] three feet, and this [illegible]. There are, however, two [illegible] to [illegible], each about [illegible] five feet [illegible] than the one we have [illegible]; but as there is little earth to remove [illegible] of them,—not enough for [illegible] to bridge them. The [illegible] will [illegible] hundred feet in length and five hundred or six hundred feet [illegible]. In a short time their construction will [illegible]. The timber along the line of the road is very heavy, requiring no little labor to remove it. The laboring force is [illegible] and is getting fairly at its [illegible] few weeks it will be [illegible] showing of work performed. The line of the road has been located for a distance of [illegible] ten miles, and the [illegible] are pushing ahead. On the [illegible] the [illegible] present, as we [illegible] will [illegible] sixty feet to the [illegible].

When this [illegible] is fairly cleared, the [illegible] of the road will be [illegible] rapidly. The route [illegible] its whole [illegible] a section which has heretofore [illegible] the [illegible] facilities for [illegible] a railroad will bring. The [illegible], we are glad to [illegible], are taking [illegible] in this work. They [illegible] help it. If our railroad [illegible] we see no [illegible] why [illegible] not be, they will [illegible] in the history of Oregon. With [illegible] and the completion of the Pacific Railroad, our population will be [illegible], perhaps [illegible] in five years; and the State will go forward in a new career of prosperity and [illegible]. This is hope for our future; yet let us not forget that there is work for our hands to do to accomplish what the country needs.

The Herald of Saturday has the following highly characteristic paragraph:

> PETTY FORGERY.—The OREGONIAN says: "The [illegible] the election passed off quietly [illegible]." The Herald [illegible] uttered any such [illegible] as that quoted and attributed to it by the OREGONIAN. The Herald never defended or apologized for lawlessness of any kind; it simply recorded the [illegible] of the OREGONIAN as to the extent of, and [illegible] for, the dis[illegible] election-day. [illegible] forgeries which would disgrace a sneak thief, [illegible] in the OREGONIAN from day to day. No street scavenger does as much dirty service for as little pay as does the [illegible] editor of that [illegible].

> In yesterday's [illegible] we were led into error in declaring that the words "the election passed off quietly enough," [illegible] by the OREGONIAN, had not [illegible] in our columns. They were [illegible] by our city editor in the local [illegible].

Readers will now decide who is the "scavenger," the "[illegible]," the author of "falsehood" and the perpetrator of "petty forgeries."

Connecticut Senator.

On the 19th of May, Wm. A. Buckingham was elected United States Senator for Connecticut. The vote stood: Buckingham, 136; Dixon, 118. On the 4th of March next, Senator Buckingham will take the seat occupied by Dixon, the Johnsonized renegade. Here is a portion of the fruit of another great "Democratic victory."

STATE ITEMS.

Advices from Grant County state that the mines are turning out well and business of all kinds is in a healthy condition.

The schooner Ada May a short time ago brought into Yaquina Bay a cargo of merchandise and took out 100,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco.

The Albany paper is endeavoring to awaken the citizens of that town to the demands of the occasion on the railroad question. It tells them that if they do not encourage the undertaking, the road will run ten miles east of them, taking nearly a direct line, and running through a rich section of country where the people will help the enterprise.

The Corvallis Gazette furnishes a chapter of accidents which happened at that place last Monday. Thomas Hamilton cut off three of his toes with a mattock; S. K. Brown had his right ankle crushed by a heavy scantling; Dr. Lee was thrown from a horse and narrowly escaped being killed; and a man whose name is not given was run over by a wagon and badly hurt. Grand chance for local items.

W. B. Laswell gives the following account of the late shooting affray in Grant county: The difficulty arose in the settlement of an account which Way owed Davis and not on account of the election, as stated. Davis asked Way for his bill, when he (Way) pulled out a pistol and said: "This is the way I pay your kind," and fired at the same time. Davis then drew his pistol when they both fired at about the same time and Way fell. Way fell on his left elbow with his pistol in his hand, cocked, and appeared to be trying to raise it so as to shoot Davis when Davis fired at him twice again, neither shot taking effect. Davis then walked off and Way was taken home. A man by the name of Gill was accidentally killed by Way's first shot. No one attaches a particle of blame to Mr. Davis, unless it is some of Way's friends.

Political Items.

The Nashville (Tenn.) Press and Times says that it is now "tolerably certain that a proclamation of universal amnesty is in course of preparation at the White House, and will be issued before the meeting of the National Democratic Convention."

The newly elected Legislature of North Carolina will have a Republican majority of twenty-six in the Senate and forty in the House of Representatives, whence a Southern paper is induced to hope that the Conservatives will carry the State for the Democracy in November.

The Columbia (S. C.) Phœnix thinks that the position taken by the recent Democratic State Convention, in favor of granting suffrage to the negro, is in no degree calculated to injure the Democrats at the North.

The Chicago Tribune says that a muster of thirty-two delegates from Illinois shows a majority who are opposed to Pendleton personally and to his platform, and who, relieving themselves on the first and second ballot of the obligation of their instructions, will vote thereafter for any man who will be satisfactory to New York and New England.

The Missouri Republican is in a state of deep [illegible] about the Democratic nomination. Witness its [illegible]: "We are neither for Pendleton, nor against him; neither for Blair, nor against him; neither for Seymour, nor against him; for Hancock, nor against him. We recognize in each of these men peculiar qualities and titles to public favor."

Hamilton Smith, of Cannelton, Indiana, a college classmate and personal friend of Chief Justice Chase, and also a thorough-going Democrat, has published a letter in favor of the nomination of Judge Chase by the Democratic party. Mr. Smith belonged to the recent Democratic State Convention of Indiana, and has hitherto been counted for Pendleton.

The Dayton (Ohio) Ledger, Mr. Vallandigham's organ, speaks as follows of that branch of the great Democratic party which it represents: "If a 'War Democrat' of the Marble-Halpine 'flaunting lie' school is chosen standard-bearer of the party, his defeat is inevitable, because the wing known as the Peace Democrats will not support him; if at all, at least with no degree of zeal—and they are a power in the land."

The chivalry of the Old Dominion are aroused. A Richmond paper announces that Richard Ivanhoe Cooke (name suggestive of many gallantly contested tournaments at the Virginia Springs in the "olden time long ago") has "met carpet-bag man Porter and thoroughly excoriated him and his party." This appears to be an improvement upon the [illegible] practice. Then a knight was satisfied if he simply killed his antagonist; now he undertakes, in addition, to skin him.

Two Opinions of Grant.

On the 15th of January, 1867, the Herald said of General Grant:

> Neither Gen. Grant's military education, political antecedents, personal associations or public acts give evidence of political sentiments ascribed to him by those Radical reports which place him in sympathy with the revolutionary designs of Congress. Wendell Phillips places Grant among the [illegible] of the "rebel sympathizers," and that is undoubtedly the place which all Radicals will eventually assign him. He was among the first to volunteer his services at the beginning of the war, and it was not till the second call for troops was made that he obtained command of a regiment, his politics being the chief obstacle to his promotion. * * * * We want no better proof of any military officer's support of the magnanimous policy of the President than a character for courage and fidelity during the war.

[illegible] Grant became a candidate for President, this laudatory style has been changed for the following, which we extract from the Herald of a few days ago:

> We have conversed with scores of military officers who knew Grant in the army, and we have yet to find one who expressed any confidence in his military ability. A General who fought under Grant in the Southwest, was asked, a few days since, his opinion of Grant as a military commander. He replied briefly: "Grant owes his position to the forbearance of his officers." Any other General not the special object of party favoritism, would have been driven from the army in disgrace for one-half of the blunders and failures which marked his career.

So it will be seen, according to the veracious Beriah, that in the first place Grant was a Democrat, and "his politics was the chief obstacle to his promotion"; and that according to later discoveries by the same valuable authority, he was "a special object of party favoritism" during the war, which circumstance saved him from being "driven from the army in disgrace." Also that Beriah was of opinion a year and a half ago that Grant established "a character for courage and fidelity during the war"; and that the same Beriah is now firmly of opinion that Grant is utterly destitute of military ability, and of every other meritorious qualification. Time was when Beriah believed that Grant had won his way to distinction in spite of "Radical" persecution on account of his politics; but now we are indebted to the same authority for the discovery that "Grant owes his position to the forbearance of his officers." Beriah's opinions are almost as valuable as Bunsby's.

REGULAR DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE.—Alluding to the charges of hard drinking brought against General Grant, the Grass Valley (Cal.) Union (Democratic) says with considerable unction:

> As to General Grant's drinking we do not care, and we only mention the muss going on over the matter because the rhetoric and logic expended about it by fanatical men and women are amusing. General Grant has a right to take a drink if he wishes, and when he drank the toast of "Lincoln and Liberty" with Mississippi river water, when [illegible] champagne was at hand, we think he showed bad taste.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 20.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Mr. Sumner called up the bill and joint resolution to carry into effect the decree of the Southern District of New York in the case of the British steamer Labuan, making an appropriation to the owners for her illegal capture during the war. A debate ensued, during which Mr. Conness desired to call attention to the alacrity with which the Senator reported bills for the relief of British citizens, and his delay in acting on resolutions in regard to outrages on American citizens abroad, which he had long ago assured him would receive the immediate attention of the Committee. He charged the delay to the influence of Seward and the diplomatic corps.

Mr. Sumner said that he never had any conversation with Mr. Seward on the subject, and that it was untrue that any diplomatic influence had been brought to bear on the Committee.

Mr. Conness replied that the Senator evaded the question; that he was always ready to present petitions when an outrage was committed on our citizens under our eyes, but that he had no heart for hundreds of his fellow-citizens who are rotting in foreign prisons.

Mr. Stewart said he would never consent to pay for any British ships until the Alabama claims were settled. Without action, the Senate adjourned.

In the House, the tax bill was reported to-day. It fixes the tax on whisky at fifty cents; finer qualities of tobacco are reduced from 40 to 30 cents. There is not much change in other kinds.

There was quite an animated debate on the Osage Indian treaty now pending in the Senate, whereby eight million acres of land in Kansas belonging to the Great and Little Osage indians, are transferred to the railroad company. The treaty was denounced as an outrage and swindle. Everybody connected with its making was spoken of as thief and rascal. Resolutions were finally passed unanimously denying that any one had a right to make such a treaty for the benefit of a great monopoly, and charging that it was procured through corruption and expressing the solemn opinion that it ought to be rejected by the Senate.

The joint resolution authorizing the change of mail service between Helena and Fort Abernethy was, after debate, passed.

The bill extending the patent for improvements in woolen printing machines, if approved by the patent commissioners, passed.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The President to-day vetoed the Arkansas admission bill, and the House this morning passed it over the veto by 109 to 36.

The report of the retrenchment committee on the sale of the iron-clads Oneonta and Catawba, to Swift & Co., who resold them to the Peruvian Government, states that they had no doubt that collusion existed between Swift and Merritt, agent of the Navy Department. They also intimate that the Secretary of the Navy had knowledge of the circumstances. They state that parties in Peru, Spain and the United States knew the facts in the case. They call on the Executive to prevent the sailing of the vessels for Peru, as they have been loaded with guns, ammunition and other war material, proving that they intend to violate the international obligations of this country.

A bill was reported to the Senate to-day providing for two Assistant Attorney Generals, with a salary of 4,000 each. The bill makes it the Attorney General's duty, with his assistants, to attend to all business of the Government before the Supreme Court and the Court of Claims.

The President nominated to day Andrew J. Moulder, to be Surveyor General of California.

The President has pardoned H. Heath, Major General in the rebel army during the war, on the recommendation of General Schofield and others.

The Inspector General of the Freedmen's Bureau, who has recently returned from a tour through Texas, says the people of the North have little idea of the lawlessness prevailing there and of the insecurity of life and property of Unionists. Loyalists have asked Generals Hancock and Buchanan for protection, but were unable to obtain it. He is convinced, from what was said, that they will take matters into their own hands, unless Congress gives them authority to protect themselves in some way.

The Sangerbund.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The North American Sangerbund annual festival closes to-morrow with a picnic, for which very extensive preparations have been made. Nearly two thousand delegates, representing sixty-one societies, from all parts of the country, are present. Several delegates from Europe are also in attendance. The next festival will be at Cincinnati in 1870.

Accidents.

PORTLAND, (Me.), June 20.—A boat containing eight men was upset at the mouth of Saco river yesterday and five men drowned.

NEW YORK, June 20.—The tow boat Leroy exploded off the battery this morning. Three lives were lost. The boat was racing with another tug at the time.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

BERLIN, June 20.—The session of the North German Parliament was officially closed yesterday.

The King of Prussia made a short pacific speech on the occasion. He commented on the work of the present session and concluded by expressing the conviction that the result of the labors of Parliament would be successful, and that Germany would continue to enjoy the blessings of peace.

The American Minister, Bancroft, contemplates a visit to the Courts of the different South German States. Col. Bliss, Secretary of Legation, will act during his absence.

PARIS, June 20.—The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived at Lisbon.

The allied forces are reported as having given up the attempt to storm Humaita and now propose to reduce the city by starving the garrison. The prospects of Paraguay are reported improving. The people are united in the support of Lopez and in providing resources to carry on the war against the allies.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—At 5½ o'clock yesterday afternoon, a fire occurred in the store of A. Greenbaum & Co., 226 Front street, dealers in cigars and Yankee notions, by which the entire stock was consumed. Loss $90,000; insured for $50,000. Heink & Lake, cigar dealers, also lost about $30,000.

Yesterday afternoon, the dead body of Emile Fazot was found hanging to a tree in Laurel Hill Cemetery. He left a letter stating he had been driven to suicide by poverty and misery.

The race between "Error" and "Unknown" was won by "Error," who ran four miles in 9:11.

Another explosion occurred at the Marion County Powder Mills on Thursday last. It is believed that one man was killed.

Several deaths from small-pox occurred at the hospital yesterday, and the disease prevails to a greater extent than is generally supposed.

The Presidential Campaign at the South.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Eastern division of the National Republican Executive Committee held a meeting here this afternoon at which Messrs. Claflin, of Massachusetts, Chandler, of New Hampshire, Starkweather, of Connecticut, and Greeley, of New York, were present. The members from Vermont and Pennsylvania were absent. Messrs. Cowan, of Ohio, and Gorham, of California, of another division of the committee, were also informally in attendance. A long consultation was held with the Secretary of the Congressional Executive Committee, and the gentlemen indulged in a conversation about the work during the campaign. It was unanimously agreed that the work in the South should be prosecuted with vigor, and the conviction was expressed that with proper effort all the Southern States except Texas and possibly Virginia can be carried next November for Grant and Colfax. The General Committee and the Congressional Committee will co-operate heartily in the campaign labors. Mr. Greeley and Governor Claflin both took an exceedingly hopeful view of the situation, and said we would carry the country in the fall by a great majority. The Executive Committee is to meet again in New York on the 18th instant, and immediately thereafter will open its summer and establish its headquarters in that city and begin work in good earnest. The C[illegible] most prominent Congressmen this evening at the rooms of Senator Chandler for general consultation, but took no further action.

The Springfield, (Mass.) Republican notes an historical fact not generally known:

Springfield once included Enfield, (Conn.) and in the time-worn records of the Town Clerk's office there is a statement set out on the pages some time in 1683 that the lands near the "falls below Springfield, as by orders of ye town in town meeting assembled, August 4th, 1679, fully appeareth," were granted to such persons as would actually "inhabit and dwell there," to the end that "Enfield, or Freshwater plantation, be a township by itself." Major John Pynchon and four others were the "Committee to grant out the lands." His lot was at the north end of "ye streets," and on the other side, in order, came the others, those on the west running back to "ye greate river."

From Alaska—Gold Discoveries, etc.

We have letters from Sitka to May 22, brought by the Jamestown to Victoria:

GOLD EXCITEMENT.

Gold has been discovered on Fuco river, a considerable stream about 75 miles north of Sitka. It was believed that there was no mistake in the reported discovery. Everything in the shape of conveyance by water had been taken up at Sitka by parties rushing to the mines. The officers of the Jamestown confirmed those reported discoveries. The mines were said to be rich. Officers of the Russian Fur Company had always stated that gold would be found on Fuco river.

BUSINESS, ETC.

Peace and quietness prevailed. Provisions, especially vegetables, were scarce at Sitka. The Saginaw had sailed to look after the wreck of the Growler. The Wyandotte had gone on a cruise to the Aleutian Islands. The Constitution and two other vessels, after taking on board 200 or more of the servants of the Russian Fur Company, had sailed for the Asiatic coast.

WEATHER AT SITKA.

"The old deluge" is no circumstance to the rains of this region. In the last two months, up to within the last two days, the sun had not been seen, and the rain was pouring down in torrents all the while.

PLEASURES OF LAND TRAVEL.

The climate is so wet that the seeds of the spruce and hemlock (the prevailing timber) will only germinate when they fall on some elevated object, such as a rotten log, stump, or moss covered rock. The logs and stumps often disappear in time, and leave great cavities between the germinal point and the ground. Roots often grow from 30 to 40 feet long. As one passes through these almost unnatural woods he seems to be impressed that there is intelligence in vegetation, else how would these long, uncouth roots find their way to the soil, seeking the interstices between the rocks?

The whole country is covered with a mat of moss and turf,—even the mountain sides,—which holds water like a sponge, so that without rubber boots one cannot go far without wet feet. One ramble through the woods for pleasure will satisfy all ambition in that way. The fall of rain is said to be annually 90 inches.

THE NEW POSTS.

The H. B. steamer Otter arrived at Victoria, has been at Archangel and Tongas. The troops at those places are represented to be in a very uncomfortable condition, living in tents while the rain was falling all the time. The locations are said to be most isolated and forlorn, and it was thought that when Gen. Halleck visited these posts the troops would be sent to more eligible positions.

The Two Parties.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican has a word about the Democratic party, that may or may not be regarded as complimentary. We cull a few sentences:

> It always fights to win, and not at all to preserve its dignity. It is never caught with its baggage trains on the line of battle, or its dirty clothes on the front steps. It can find something for the biggest fool to do, and make a George Francis Train as serviceable in his place as a better man. It can put down a too ambitious politician just as easily as Rome could crush a prelate who was becoming dangerous. It has no cumbersome sentiments. It is never troubled with gratitude. It knows no remorse. It saw the blunder committed in New Hampshire by sending virulent Copperheads there, and accordingly in Connecticut put forth only its discreeter and more reputable speakers. It is ready to take Chase with his anti slavery record unblotted, rather than lose the election, and would be delighted to accept Farragut, without a pledge or an intimation of his political views.

Following this analysis, we have a definition of the Republican organization, as follows:

> The Republican party is a party of moral ideas, honest, but clumsy, sure, but slow, liable to be worried by the rapid movements of its adversary; at a disadvantage in skirmishing and irregular fight, too neglectful of expediency, a little too sentimental and tender-hearted, yet having that in it which will yet break the bones of its enemy and take its spoil.

BENEFIT TO ROSENHEIM.—The Salem Record improves the opportunity to give Rosenheim a "benefit," as follows:

> There was one point of the Portland election we watched with great interest. We would have been glad to see the city redeemed from democratic misrule, but did not really expect it; but, what we did expect, and—thank God! not in vain, as the result shows—was that the citizens of the metropolis would put a quietus on the infamous career of Rosenheim. If we ever felt ashamed for Oregon Democracy, it was the other day when we read Beriah's eulogy on Rosenheim, where he recounted the miscreant's services to the party, and told its readers that the party owed the hound a re election. It is astonishing that so venal and contemptible a tool has been able to figure so largely in our public affairs.

THE BEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM is to wear good Under Shirts, good Cassimere Suits, and should it be warm, change your heavy clothes for such as suit the weather. Follow that prescription, and you will never suffer with rheumatism, but be certain to buy your clothes of KOHN & FISHEL, for theirs are known to cure either cold or heat, and to suit both rich and poor.

"Sairy Gamp."

Says Mrs. Harris to me, "a monthly nuss 'll come to be a weekly one soon, or ther'll be no nusses at all, which Mrs. Skimpington, my last lady as ever was, said, after one bottle of had made her as strong as ever, after the fortnit." And Mrs. Skimpington was right, for

Dalles Items.—We clip the subjoined items from the Mountaineer of Saturday: The Columbia river has raised to within about eight feet of high water mark last summer, and is still slowly raising......The District Court, Jos. Wilson, Judge, will commence its session on Monday morning next in this city......The health of our city [illegible] at this time is very good; very little or no sickness [illegible]......Bloch, Miller & Co forwarded during the week to two firms at Canyon City, upwards of 91,000 lbs of merchandise. Freight at 4 cents, making a total of [illegible] to be distributed among the teamsters......Notwithstanding the cry of hard times, our merchants, [illegible], Bloch, Miller & Co., Grant & Co., P. Polk & Co., and some others, are shipping wagon loads of [illegible] to the interior every day......Colonel Fulton [illegible] us that a terrific hail and rain storm passed over his farm in the Celilo precinct, on Friday, the 12th inst. The hail-stones were as large as hen-eggs and the rain fell in torrents. Considerable damage was done to [illegible] trees, also to the roads......Mr. Dorman, of this city, has purchased the old steamer Dalles of the O. S. N. Co., and has converted her into a sailing vessel for the wood trade......We are informed that the [illegible] of fifty-eight [illegible] arrived here yesterday from [illegible], having drawn off from that road. Hereafter it will run from this city to the interior......Lieut. [illegible] and Major Perry returned from Portland on Thursday [illegible] and left yesterday morning for Camp Harney. These two gentlemen took a prominent part in the [illegible] Mountain in which a large number of [illegible] were killed, an account of which we published some time ago......We took a stroll, on [illegible], up Mill Creek, for the purpose of taking a look at the work [illegible] in that region. We first visited Mr. Robert [illegible]'s Flouring Mill where we found several men at [illegible], etc. It is Mr. Penthand's [illegible] to have his mill in running order by the time [illegible] into market this fall. From the sub[illegible] appearance of the machinery and from the thor[illegible] manner in which everything is being done, we should judge that the mill will be able to manufacture as good an article of flour as any brand in the State. We next visited the Woolen Mill and there found a [illegible] of men [illegible] to set the water [illegible]. The carpenters have finished the building and [illegible] the [illegible], who have [illegible] setting up the machinery. The building [illegible] and [illegible] to this portion of the town. It is expected to have the mill in [illegible] the first of August, if not [illegible].

[illegible] City Items.—The Enterprise of Saturday, [illegible] the following: Several of the county officers elect have qualified and filed their bonds in this city......We [illegible] that the Woolen Mills of Oregon City did not let Mr. Minto's wool pass on to California, but will [illegible] here. The factory will run on full time for the future......A contest between parties for the rights to the Yaquina townsite has been in process of trial for several days before the officers at the Land [illegible]. [illegible] are to play the first game of a match with the [illegible] Club at [illegible], on Saturday next, the [illegible] of June. Our boys, we believe, are not in [illegible] having play[illegible] but few [illegible] in practice [illegible], owing to the rainy weather and no matches [illegible]. But now the [illegible] will be on hand, and as the Secretary of the challenged [illegible] the challenge, [illegible] the boys have pleasant weather, a close game, and [illegible].

[illegible] Items.—The following were [illegible] in the Circuit Court, Saturday, the 20th: [illegible] State; verdict of jury, not [illegible] charged. [illegible] vs. Chuh Dip and Ah Pong; Grand [illegible] charged, [illegible] in the case having been [illegible] to the Grand Jury. A [illegible] against [illegible] was presented [illegible] to pay a fine of $100 and [illegible]. The same paid and defendant discharged. [illegible] vs. W. Ham et al.; motion for a new trial [illegible]; judgment directed to be entered on verdict of jury. [illegible]; motion for new trial [illegible] to be entered on verdict of [illegible]. [illegible] John McCarran; sentenced to imprisonment [illegible] for one year.

Athletics vs Tumwaters.—The second game in the match between the Athletic B. B. Club of this city and the Tumwater Club of Oregon City was played Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Young Pioneers. The Athletics made 78 runs and the Tumwaters, 75, deciding the match in favor of the former club. The game occupied three hours and fifteen minutes. The batting on both sides was tremendous, which accounts for the great number of runs. Mr Jos. Wiley, of the Pioneers, acted as Umpire. After the conclusion of the game the Athletics treated their competitors to a dinner and the usual courtesies.

Grand Lodge, Masons.—The Grand Lodge of Masons will commence its annual communication to-day at the hall of the Masonic lodge of this city. The following is a list of the sitting officers: A. A. Smith, G. M.; W. D. Hare, D. G. M., D. C. Clark, S. G. W.; A. B. Richardson, J. G. W.; B. F. Brown, G. C.; J. R. Hurford, G. S.; J. R. Bayley, G. of C. on E. F.; J. B. Wythe, G. Orator; H. C. Benson, G. Chaplain; G. Myers, G. Marshal; H. Saxer, S. G. D.; Samuel Hughes, J. G. D.; Jacob Conser, G. Standard Bearer; Hiram Smith, G. Sword Bearer; A G. Walling and J. L. Louden, G. Stewards; F. Sancke, G. Tyler.

Oregon Products.—The following were the receipts on Saturday: Per Wenat, 2 boxes eggs, 3 kegs beer, 36 boxes cherries. Per Alert, 4 boxes eggs, 110 sacks wheat, 206 sacks oats, 275 sacks flour, 1 wagon, 1 chest tools, 179 packages stone ware.

Latest Publications.—From Barrett, we have a large number of the latest publications. Everything in the line of newspapers and magazines may be found on his counters.

Special Session of the Council.—A special meeting of the Council has been called for this evening, by the Mayor. The call does not state the object of the meeting.

Arrived Home.—Mr. A. C. Ripley, Councilman for the First Ward, who has been for some weeks absent, returned home Saturday evening.

Lecture by Mrs. Stowe.—We are requested to state that Mrs. C. M. Stowe will lecture this evening at Oro Fino Hall at 8 o'clock.

The Fourth of July Hat, suitable for warm weather, will be introduced to-day, Saturday, June 20th, at J. C. Meussdorffer & Bros. This Hat is manufactured entirely by our firm in this city. It is light, tidy and airy, and price very reasonable. Call and examine.

Honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is a genuine preparation of that unequaled spring medicine and blood purifier, decidedly superior to the poor imitations heretofore in the market. Trial proves it.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as
DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.
Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

How the Ticket is Received

From the New York Tribune

The nominations of Grant and Colfax have been welcomed throughout the whole land with an enthusiasm even exceeding that amidst which they were presented by the Convention. Not a ripple of personal complaint from the defeated candidates or their friends, nor a taint of local dissatisfaction from the States competing for the nomination to the Vice Presidency disturbs the harmony with which politicians, the people and the press everywhere indorse the work done at Chicago. While the names of Grant and Colfax strengthen and supplement each other and probably no other name suggested would have been as satisfactory to General Grant as that of Mr Colfax, yet Mr Colfax comes upon the ticket as independently and as entirely on his own merits as his invincible colleague. Only a rare and peculiar fitness and strength in the man could have so silently overborne all geographical considerations and induced the domination of candidates from the two adjoining States of Illinois and Indiana, both of which combined have an electoral vote less than New York, and either of which would have been safe for the Republican ticket whoever had been chosen. Indeed the West felt that it could not afford to ask for both candidates, and only on condition that the East, Center, South and Pacific Coast should previously indicate Colfax as the choice could his own section in justice to the whole country, accept him. We therefore find that out of the 108 votes cast by the States between Indiana and the plains, in which Mr Colfax is perhaps more popular than in any other section of the Union, he got but 15, until the preference of the other sections was clearly made known. When his nomination by the East was assured, the North West cast for him its solid vote. The fabled gallantry of the French troops who politely insisted that the English should fire first, would not have been, if true, more gracefully courteous than the attitude of the West in accepting the inevitable honor of the whole ticket. It was the sentiment of the people, that neither Grant nor Colfax was a man in whose history or reputation any State could claim title. Grant, born in Ohio, educated at West Point and lifted into greatness by his military achievements in Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia and Virginia, presents a national career of which his residence in Illinois is the merest accident. Mr Colfax, though more identified with the politics and men of his State and section than Grant, has a more thoroughly national career and popularity than any other civilian who could have been chosen. His nomination was greeted as enthusiastically by hundreds of thousands in New-York and Massachusetts as in his own State. New-York moves to make it unanimous, and bluff Ben Wade declares it is well deserved. The guns of California echo those of Maine in congratulation, though neither State voted for him in Convention. The East, the South, and the Pacific States are as ardent for the ticket as Illinois and Indiana. Even the more prominent among the lights of the Democratic press and party confess that it is the very best that could have been made. No sooner is the ticket nominated and the platform adopted than from every point in the political horizon the clouds which had gathered at the failure of impeachment break and the skies brighten. Few seem disposed to question that the names and principles thus presented will be overwhelmingly indorsed by the votes of nearly all, if not absolutely all, the States in the Union. Even the recusant Senators hasten to announce their fealty to the ticket and the platform in the hope thus to glide back unobserved amid the general congratulations, and resume their places beside those whose convictions of right and opinions of law did not change with every trifling verbal alteration in the form of the oath they were under. The Satanic press hastens in vain to weaken the ticket by offensive and damaging praise.—The press whose function it is, like Blondin, to hang balancing and manacled over the chasm which divides truth from error and right from crime, unbasket their feet and hurry to land on the hither side.

Senator Doolittle is said to be hard at work to secure his nomination as Vice President on the Democratic ticket.

Salt Lake is statistical. The News says grasshoppers go 307,000 to the bushel. They caught 172 bushels in the ditches in three days.

The Democratic papers claim to have killed off Manton Marble so effectually that they allude to him as Mr Marble of the other World.

The Virginia Convention adopted a provision that amendments to the Constitution must be approved by two successive Legislatures and then submitted to the people.

The New Orleans Picayune and other Southern papers are declaring for Gen Hancock for President. Four years ago they were just as zealous in their support of Jeff Davis.

English's majority in the three rilest wards of Hartford and New Haven was several hundred larger than the aggregate majority in the State. He should be proud of this fact.

Among the visitors who inflicted themselves upon the President to congratulate him were the voluminous Mrs Ann S. Stephens, the author, and the distinguished Clown Dan Rice.

THE FIRST GOLD MINE.—The first piece of gold found in the United States is said to have been found in Cabarras Co, North Carolina in 1790. It seems from the account furnished Mr Wheeler by Col Burnhardt that a boy named Conrad Reed went with his sister and younger brother to a small stream called Meadow Creek on Sunday and while engaged along the bank shooting fish he saw a yellow substance shining in the water, which he picked up and found to be metal. His father carried it to Concord and showed it to William Atkinson, the silversmith of the town, who was unable to tell what it was. It was taken home by Mr Reed and being about the size of a small smoothing iron it was used as a weight against the door to keep it from shutting. In 1802 he carried it to market at Fayetteville where the jeweler pronounced it gold and melted it, producing a bar six or eight inches long. It was sold to the jeweler for three hundred and fifty dollars, a big price Mr Reed thought. Upon subsequent examination gold was found along the surface in Meadow Creek and in 1803 a piece of gold was found in the stream that weighed 28 pounds. Several other pieces were found varying from 16 pounds to the [illegible]. The [illegible] was [illegible] in 1831.

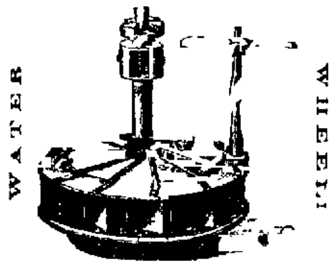
LEFFEL'S
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories &c. &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel, and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing bluff, I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,

DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether the [illegible] are used [illegible] whole or in part, will be prosecuted.

A. MYERS

HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense if the patient's cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, [illegible] county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, [illegible] Skin Diseases of years standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons of both male and female [illegible] are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at the [illegible] pallid emaciated and disfigured faces, and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrible situation thousands suffer until death [illegible] the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible [illegible] destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and [illegible] before it is too late. Send them immediately to [illegible] who has made private disease [illegible] and who [illegible] cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who [illegible] their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves or rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn certificates [illegible] Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trade. Some are the cobblers, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, &c. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes, but you will find their former occupations. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The [illegible] way [illegible] to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for [illegible] places, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them, until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not decieve people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patents, letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATIONS, IN ALL CASES FREE.

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED, THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 18[illegible], and which have done so [illegible] to secure the reputation of the Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so [illegible] importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and [illegible] give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of [illegible] who are suffering or in [illegible] to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible [illegible]

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

That is sapping with insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon a subject as the decay of manly vigor the [illegible] vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] anguish and decay the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of [illegible] one but the practical specialist who [illegible] treatment can tell, but its presence can [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms.
